Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Speech of Mr. Forsyth, of Georgia: On the Bill Providing for the Removal of the Indians, Delivered in the Senate of the United States, May, 1830 I regret, Mr. President, that the amendment to the bill, proposed by the Senator from New Jersey, is not more definite and precise. His explanation of its purpose is not more satisfactory than the amendment itself, and it is only by looking to his speech that we are relieved from embarrassment. His amendment and explanation leave us to conjecture whether he intends that the United States shall interfere with the Indians in the old States north of the Roanoke or not. His speech was plain enough. The Indians in New York, New England, Virginia, c. c. are to be left to the tender mercies of those States, while the arm of the General Government is to be extended to protect the Choctaws, Chickasaws, Creeks, and especially the Cherokees, from the anticipated oppressions of Mississippi, Alabama, and Georgia We thank the gentleman for his amiable discrimination in our favor. He, no doubt, hopes that his zeal and industry in the Indian cause will be crowned with success; that he will be able to persuade the Senate, and his friends in the House of Representatives, to interfere, and compel the President to take new views of the relative power of the State and General Governments, and that under these new views the physical force of the country will be used, if necessary, to arrest the progress of Georgia. The expectation the gentleman has expressed, that Georgia will yield, in the event of this desirable change in the Executive course, is entirely...
