Excerpt: .for the town, she wrongs both that and her own conscience; and if it is not done soon, Houseman will prevent her. She likewise knows that Terry s wife had some velvet; and, if she will, can testify it: she deserves not the regard of the town if she will not. That part of Houseman s evidence wherein he said I threatened him, was absolutely false; for what hindered him, when I was so long absent and far distant? I must needs observe another thing to be perjury in Houseman s evidence, in which he said he went home from Clark; whereas he went straight to my house, as my wife can testify, if I be not believed. EUGENE ARAM. Eugene Aram submitted to his sentence with all that stoicism which was the characteristic of his life: The morning after he was condemned, he was visited by two clergymen, (who had a licence from the Judge to attend him) and in the course of conversation he told them He suspected Clark of having an unlawful commerce with his wife; But supposing that had been the case, had you a right to murder the man? was then asked--to which he replied-- Sir, I had as much right to do so, as George the First had to do it, for the same reason, to Count Koningsmark. Charles John, Count Koningsmark, was born at Dresden, in Saxony, in 1655. He had served in the army both in...
