It is a beautiful place situated in a valley about a mile above the sea level; the city is surrounded by mountains. On one side are three beautiful volcanos, Mount Agua, Mount Fuego, and Mount Pacalla, when the sun sets behind them it is a beautiful scene. The streets are always full of Indians dressed in bright colors bringing in fruits and vegetables and live chickens from the pueblos. They do not walk like other people, they trot, and hold themselves very straight. They sell their things in the market back of the cathedral. There is a plaza in front of the cathedral where barefooted soldiers drill every morning at 10 o'clock, and the band plays nicely. Your loving reader, Dorothy H. Herlihy (age 12½). Pochuta, Guatemala. Dear St. Nicholas: We can't read English yet, only Spanish, but are going to very soon, for though my sisters translate your stories to us, they say they are not half so nice as when you read them yourself. Your loving friends and future readers, Carlos Sanchez (age 9). Ricardo Sanchez (age 7). Island Of Guam. Dear St. Nicholas: I don't believe many of your other readers ever heard of Guam, so I will describe it. It is a little island thirty by ten miles, belonging to the Ladrone group and about the only ships coming through here are the army transports; it is two weeks journey from Honolulu and six days journey from...
